The mission of the Crossroads Carnegie Art Center, Inc., a 501(c)3 non-profit founded in 1963, is to create opportunities for the entire community to be engaged, inspired, and transformed by the arts through participation in classes, workshops, exhibits, mentorships, and partnerships - A welcoming place where people meet and the arts speak.

Staffing Update

Crossroads is losing Katie Ash, as our Education Coordinator, in July. She has a wonderful opportunity to get back to teaching and we are so excited for her. She has been transformational in her work as the Education Coordinator.

Crossroads is also sad to lose Hope Waxbom, as our shopkeeper and custodian, at the end of July. Hope has been a delight but needs to focus on some important family issues.

Karen Owen, our current Office Manager, will be transitioning into the Education Coordinator role. She and Community Art Director Alyson Spiering will be reconfiguring the essential functions of both their positions to their individual strengths. This allows a high level of cross training and both will work 32 hours a week.

We will be looking for a Friday, Saturday and Sunday Shopkeeper/Custodian who will take over the membership program, maintain our Saturday hours doing additional clerical work and clean the building on Sundays.

Scholarships Available

HAND TO HEART CAN HELP!

If you see a class, you or your child would like to take but it's too expensive for your budget, please let us know! Our scholarship account is very healthy right now and we want to see it used. You will not be taking funds away from someone else. Many generous donors have contributed to the fund so that anyone in our area who wants to take an art class can do so regardless of finances. You do not have to be a member to request or receive a scholarship. Crossroads continually strives to find a balance between fairly compensating our teaching artists for their time and expertise while also offering classes that are affordable for our community. Our Hand-to-Heart Scholarship fund exists to help bridge this gap.

A Scholarship Form is included with this class schedule. You may also print out a form from our website www.crossroads-arts.org or pick one up at the front desk. It's confidential and our staff will make sure we match you with the support that works best for you. Don't be shy! If you need a full scholarship, let us know! If you'd like to pay just a portion of the listed class fee, let us know! If you are registering multiple family members for classes and could use a quantity discount, let us know! Engagement with the arts is healthy for the mind, body, and soul and supports a healthy vibrant community. We firmly believe "Art is for Everyone!"

Director's Message

We have had so many fun activities and programs this summer and we are excited for a busy fall. Before you know it, our September Open Regional Art Show and Oktoberfest will be here.

In our rapidly changing world, Crossroads continues to adapt and innovate. We are passionate about community involvement and making a positive impact by providing opportunities to be engaged and inspired by the arts. You can help by coming to see a show at Crossroads, taking a class, volunteering, attending and supporting an event, renewing your membership, and participating in projects.

A healthy and vibrant community depends on each one of us. We continue to feel and see firsthand a need for residents to rally in support of organizations, businesses, and one another. We are Baker! Together, we can do anything. I encourage you to look for ways to get involved in your community!

In 2023, Crossroads will celebrate its 60th Anniversary serving Baker County and the board and staff are busy making plans for some wonderful events.

So many good things coming our way! Join us!

STEPHEN WADNER AND SARAH GREENMAN

Stephen Wadner and Sarah Greenman present a duo of eclectic artistry for our October featured exhibit, premiering on Friday, October 7th. Stephen Wadner utilizes his tremendous creativity to craft fine art sculpture pieces that beam with personality, and offer a truly intriguing contrast to Sarah Greenman's ethereal acrylic paintings. This duo finds inventive common ground with their artistic, environmental awareness. Stephen Wadner makes an effort to form his pieces using materials that are traditionally viewed as having little artistic value, while Sarah Greenman has placed her creative focus on the intricacies of tree ecosystems. This exhibit will be displayed from October 7th-October 29th.

November

We ring in the Holiday spirit with the opening of Crossroads' Annual Gift of Art and Ornament Expo show on Friday, December 2nd! Escape the chilly weather by visiting our gallery for an exciting open show! Local and regional artists of all skill levels come together to give visitors a chance to find one-of-a-kind gifts for themselves and their loved ones. Don't forget to take a look around our twelve-foot Christmas tree and the dance mirror for a handcrafted ornament to decorate your tree at home!

Entries for the Ornament Expo and Gift of Art are due by Monday, November 28th.
