

CROSSROADS CARNEGIE
ART CENTER
Art for Everyone

Towards Home

THE ARTWORK OF GARY ERNEST SMITH

Journey

Towards Home

to Baker County, Oregon for the 6-week Celebration of the Final Gallery Show of Artist Gary Ernest Smith and the Revival of the National Historic Oregon Trail Interpretive Center

Explore Eastern Oregon Arts and Culture Landscape

Crossroads Carnegie Art Center will host the final gallery show of Baker Native Gary Ernest Smith 6-decade career as one of the premiere western artists.

In 1991, Gary painted "Oregon Pioneers" the image used for the opening of the National Historic Oregon Trail Interpretive Center, a Bureau of Land Management facility. It is fitting that his final gallery show will premiere with the reopening of the Interpretive Center in 2024.

Make the journey "Towards Home."
Memorial Day Weekend - July 14, 2024
For more information www.crossroads-arts.org

Cover Image "Oregon Pioneers" 1991 Gary Ernest Smith painted at the National Historic Oregon Trail Intrepretive Center. "Oregon Pioneers" hangs at the Booth Western Art Museum, Cartersville, GA