Crossroads Information

Hand to Heart Scholarship Fund

During the challenging times we have all experienced this spring, our scholarship fund has never been more relevant and needed. Crossroads started the Hand to Heart Scholarship fund in the late 1980's to make sure people of all ages could access our programs regardless of their financial situation. It has been a bedrock of our organization ever since. If you see a class you would like to take and you cannot afford to do so, go to our website at www.crossroads-arts.org or stop by Crossroads and pick-up a Scholarship Form. We invite you to assist with costs of the class as best you are able. Some can pay a small amount towards the class, others donate time to volunteer at Crossroads- we honor everyone's dignity. We have multiple fundraisers a year to make sure we have plenty of funds in our Scholarship account. Donations are always welcome!

Class Minimums and How to Sign Up for Classes

Our time working from home allowed us the opportunity to do some serious number crunching. These numbers revealed some things we have thought to be true as well as some surprises. One conclusion that came from the numbers is that we need at least 3 participants to hold a class. Our teachers' time is valuable and we need to insure that offering the class makes sense to them as well as the art center. Please help us fill our classes by signing up early, asking a friend to join you for a class, or helping promote our classes through social media. Remember you can sign up for classes through our website www.crossroads-arts.org - this is currently the best way to sign up and pay for class. At the time of this printing our hours of operation are still unsure as is our ability to answer phone messages. Feel free to email cherie@crossroads-arts.org if you have questions about classes.

Thank You

With thanks to the DE and Jane Clark Fund of Oregon Community Foundation and the US BANK FOUNDATION we will make this quarterly class schedule available to Everyone in Baker City!

Information

Covid-19 and Crossroads

Crossroads board and staff have continued to work from home throughout the COVID-19 crisis. We have been evaluating programs and practices as well as trying to stay focused on our mission. As you may have noticed, we are using Facebook as the most effective way to get our messages out to the community. If you have already liked our Facebook page, thank you, and please encourage others to do the same. We also rely on you to help us spread the word to those that may not have a Facebook account. As we look to the future and reopening the center, please be assured we will follow all recommended guidelines to ensure the health and safety of our patrons. At the time this schedule went to print there were still many unknowns, but we are choosing to be optimistic that our summer season will take place. If any classes must be postponed or cancelled, we will update you via Facebook and our website.

New Normal

There has been a great deal of conversation about the "new normal" once we are able to reopen for business. It is difficult to plan for the unknown. What we do know is in order for us to open and stay open we need to have safety measures in place that work for what we do at Crossroads as well as following all mandated guidelines. Bringing your child to the art center for classes (or coming for class yourself) may require following new procedures.

This may include additional hand washing, potentially the need for masks, talking with kids who are so excited to see their friends to not hug or touch. It is important to work with your kids at home about the need to not touch their face, suck on fingers or hair. We know kids have been through a lot, but we want to be able to open and stay open. Social distancing will be the priority. We are counting on parents/families to set the example. Teachers will be vigilant and have students wash hands often and stay a safe distance from others. If they are sucking on their fingers or touching their face they will be sent to the bathroom to wash their hands again.

We don't want to be the bad guy but find it is essential that we not only put safety measures in place, but follow through with helping our youngest learners practice them. As we move closer to reopening we will make sure all students that sign up for classes are aware of any new procedures we have put in place.

The Missoula Children's Theatre will encourage and inspire our youth in every part of the theatre experience from acting to directing.

"Dress for success" is good advice that the Emperor takes whole-heartedly, wanting to impress new friends. But where to stop? When the clothes (and other people's opinions) become more important than the people of the kingdom, trouble brews. To help their beloved Emperor find the way back to his heart, his true friends create an elaborate "birthday suit" for the Emperor to wear for his birthday parade celebration. The Emperor quickly and humbly learns that sometimes "less is more"!

Performances will be $5.00 per person and are open to the community.

The Missoula Children's Theatre will encourage and inspire our youth in every part of the theatre experience from acting to directing.

They say an apple never falls far from the tree, and we have Johnny and his good pals, the Apple Seeds, to thank for an ample abundance of apple trees! Johnny and his little buddies traveled across the land on foot, made friends with all kinds of people and animals, and slept under the twinkling stars. Their delicious, heartwarming adventures yielded orchards full of juicy, delectable fruit that took a crunchy bite out of hungry tummies across the west. Even a grumbly wolf is won over by the sweet taste of the apples and the kindness of friends. The tale of JOHNNY APPLESEED is a tasty reminder that kindness is at the core of friendship.

The impressive and notorious nature of the annual salmon run has had a lifelong impression for artist Michael Schlichting. Growing up on the Oregon coast, the creek running through the farm and childhood home to Schlichting would showcase the life cycle of these unique creatures. Schlichting captures the tremulous moment of life and death; the exhausting journey of intuition in a single frame. The moment of these animals are as definitive as night and day. With a unique style and twist that brings to mind if Pablo Picasso and George Braque grew up in Oregon.

Join Crossroads June 5th to meet the artist, Michael Schlichting to discuss his intuitive compositional explorations of salmon in a cubist style.

WORLD TAI CHI QIGONG DAY

Plan to join Crossroads instructor, Dianne Erickson, on Saturday, May 30 from 9:30-11:30am in the bandstand at Geiser-Pollman Park. This is a free public event that will be preceded by several practice sessions. Find more information at <https://worldtaiciday.org/>. Also, watch for upcoming Tai Chi classes this fall at Crossroads.

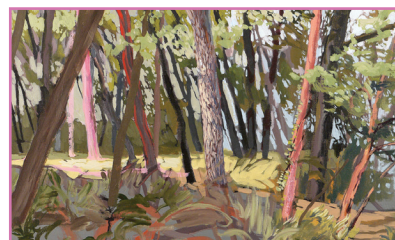

July

Allen Malaise and Mary Butler team together to bring the "Energy of the West" to Crossroads Carnegie Art Center in Historic Baker City, Oregon. Allen's bronze sculptures represent his passion for wildlife displaying energy, strength and action. Mary's oil paintings are expressionistic views of our western landscapes and livestock with light and movement. Together they complement each other's interpretation of our outdoor culture in the west.

Malaise an avid outdoor and wildlife enthusiast captures the exciting attributes into his pieces which generates excitement and motion. Since 1985, Malaise has been a professional wildlife artist working in other mediums along with bronze sculptures.

Butler comes from fourth generation Idaho Ranchers where she grew up amongst the rural lifestyle. She endearingly refers to her style of painting as "funky western," which expresses her love of color, movement, and family. Butler states that she did not choose to be a Western Artist, it was something that came to her.

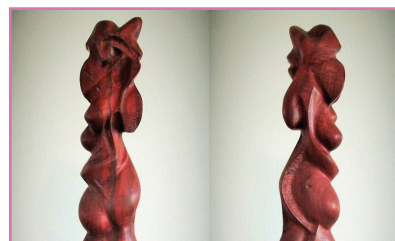

August

Ry Fryar and Gary Holt Peer brings Crossroads and the community together for "Path and Wood." Through detail and contrast these two artists bring an art exhibition showcasing human and nature crossing paths that express one another.

Fryar states "What we choose to see as detail says as much about who we are as the subject at hand. If we were bigger, or smaller, we would see different kinds of detail. It scales us, marks our relative size in the universe, and reveals what we care about most." Fryar once experienced hours of blurred vision from swimming lessons in his youth. The chlorine halo had made his world strange; light, color, and movement fought for his attention and none of it won. He saw more than usual but was too small to comprehend.

Peer is also interested in distinct contrasts: black vs. white, right vs. wrong, absolute truth vs. truth by consensus. With his sculptures he represents this contrast by depicting order vs. chaos, space vs. negative space, and geometric vs. organic. As an artistic medium, wood provides its own contrast to our increasingly technological society.

Open Shows Past and Present

The People have spoken! The winner of the 2020 April Theme Show "The Power of One" is awarded to Sherri Linnemeyer for her piece titled "Nature's Bonsai," a zinc plate etching of the oldest known Bristlecone Pine which is 5,000 years old. They grow in high elevation with low rainfall and rocky soil. Congratulations on that beautiful artwork!

Mark your calendars artists! The September Open Regional Show will be here before you know it! A quick reminder for September First Friday will be September 4th and art will need to be submitted by September 1st with up to 3 art pieces that have not been shown previously at Crossroads. Crossroads has selected Malcolm Phinney, painter, sculptor, and gallery owner of Phinney Gallery of Joseph to be this year's judge. This will be our 22nd Annual Art at the Crossroads which will include awards and prizes, including a special Northwest Pastel Society award, The Most Realistic Watercolor award, and a People's Choice award selected by the community! We expect this to be a wonderful show and wait to see the quarantine creations!
