Save One Life continues to receive updates from our program partners on how Covid-19 has drastically affected our beneficiaries and their families. Many have been recalled from work temporarily and some salaries have been withheld entirely.

The family is happy and thankful to have people who care for them through the Sponsorship Program. Leah's parents work as laborers on construction sites and also work cleaning and babysitting jobs for additional income. The current situation has left them with no income, but they remain hopeful. Leah's dad would like to set up a business in the near future to ensure a more steady source of income.

Without your support, Leah and her family would have no funds for basic necessities. The Sponsorship Program is Leah's safety net, especially during these tough times. Your funds help the family pay for food, medical expenses and other basic needs.

Many thanks for supporting Leah.
