

Honor Roll

CALIFORNIA WATERFOWL'S MAJOR DONORS AND LIFE MEMBERS AS OF JUNE 30, 2022

California Waterfowl is proud to have the support of nearly 1,300 Major Donors and over 2,900 Life Members. It is our great honor to thank these individuals, companies, organizations and foundations for their extraordinary level of commitment to waterfowl, wetlands and hunting in California.

For information about our Major Donor Program, please visit calwaterfowl.org/donate/major-donor-program, or call Vice President for Fund and Membership Development Scott Mueller at 916-648-1406, ext. 142.

For information about Life Membership, please go to calwaterfowl.org/join or call Membership Coordinator Sharon Feci at 916-648-1406 ext. 113.

Many Major Donors and Life members are also members of CWA's Pintail Legacy Society, supporters who have chosen to leave gifts through their estates. For information about estate and other tax-advantaged giving, please contact Gordon L. Nelson, CPA, CFP®, at 435-213-9986 or plannedgiving@calwaterfowl.org.

Dedicated to the ducks

If there's one person who's committed to egg salvage and service, it's longtime CWA volunteer, Life Member and ex-board member Chris Fulster Jr. A refuge manager once taught him how to sex and band ducks, and it snowballed from there. Since 1996, Fulster reckons he's banded approximately 10,000 ducks at the North Delta Conservancy (NDC) hatchery, which he helped found.

At the hatchery, farmers drop off duck eggs they find in their fields before harvesting time. The eggs are incubated and hatched, then the ducklings are raised by volunteers like Fulster, adorned with a CWA-provided band and released back into the wild. When Fulster first started banding birds, the NDC owned 75 wood duck boxes in the northern Sacramento River Delta region. Now they boast almost 300 boxes and have raised tens of thousands of ducks.

As a hunter of nearly eight decades, Fulster has dedicated his life to wetlands and waterfowl. Even back when he was busy working as the owner of Sacramento's popular Broadway Bait, Rod and Gun store, he still had his mind on ducks. His store hosted a duck plucking business and a drop-off incubator for people to bring salvaged nests to.

Besides Fulster's countless hours of volunteer service for the NDC and CWA, he has helped people put together their duck club; regularly gives talks to groups of kids, rotary clubs and other organizations; and has taken newbies out hunting, too. It's important to him to educate others about hunting.

"Many people don't understand what hunters are doing. They think we just kill ducks," said Fulster. "But that's not true. We also get out there to save eggs, look after ducklings and keep the waterfowl population going. If we don't care for the ducks, who will?"

Fulster may have just turned 90, but you can still find him helping at the hatchery or hunting in the marsh. He has no plans of stopping either anytime soon. 🦆

Ensure your legacy includes wetlands and waterfowl

Join California Waterfowl's Pintail Legacy Society! The society consists of individuals and families who have provided conservation leadership through a planned gift.

By including California Waterfowl as a beneficiary of your will, trust, retirement account, annuity or life insurance, you can help guarantee the waterfowl hunting tradition remains intact. And it doesn't cost you anything during your lifetime.

For more information about remembering California Waterfowl in your estate plans, visit CWAGift.org, or contact Gordon L. Nelson, CPA, CFP® at plannedgiving@calwaterfowl.org or 435-213-9986.
