

About the Canadian Women's Heart Health Alliance

The Canadian Women's Heart Health Alliance (CWHHA) is network of 150+ members from across Canada consisting of clinicians, scientists, allied health professionals, program administrators, and patient partners working to develop and disseminate evidence-informed strategies to transform clinical practice and enhance collaborative action on women's cardiovascular health in Canada.

Its mission is to support clinicians, scientists, patients, and decision-makers in working collaboratively to implement evidence, transforming clinical practices, and impacting public policy related to women's cardiovascular health.

The CWHHA was established in 2018 and is powered by the Canadian Women's Heart Health Centre at the University of Ottawa Heart Institute with funding support from the University of Ottawa Heart Institute Foundation.
